MSA Sponsors "Wills for Heroes" Event for Pittsburgh Firefighters

PITTSBURGH, May 30, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- It is often our nation's first responders who put their lives on the line to keep their communities safe. Yet the selfless nature of that profession all too often leads first responders to think of themselves last. To help protect these brave men and women beyond the development of advanced protective equipment, Pittsburgh-based safety equipment manufacturer, MSA (NYSE: MSA) is the lead sponsor of a Wills for Heroes event to give Pittsburgh Firefighters peace of mind that they – and their families – will be taken care of in the event of a tragedy.

Wills for Heroes is a national program that allows lawyers from various organizations to volunteer their time and services to provide wills, living wills and other estate documents to first responders and their spouses or significant others free of charge. The local Wills for Heroes event will be held on Saturday, June 1 at the Pittsburgh Fire Training Academy on Washington Boulevard in Pittsburgh. The event is being sponsored by MSA's law department in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the Young Lawyers Division of the Allegheny County Bar Association.

"For many first responders, thinking about a will is an uncomfortable reminder of the inherent danger of their profession," said Doug McClaine, MSA Vice President, Secretary and General Counsel. Mr. McClaine explained that for those who are seriously injured or die in the line of duty without a will, the loved ones left behind must deal with tedious paperwork, difficult decisions and financial struggles. Having a will and living will in place allows first responders to decide how their assets and care will be handled if the unthinkable happens.

"Our legal team is thrilled to volunteer its services to directly help Pittsburgh's first responders," Mr. McClaine said. "While all of our associates at MSA know that their jobs impact our mission - that men and women may work in safety - many do not often get the opportunity to interact with customers directly. To say the least, we are proud to do our part to support such an important cause," he said.

Attorneys from MSA and partner law firms will conduct 45- to 90-minute sessions with individual firefighters and, when finished, the first responders will leave with complete, notarized documents.

"We are grateful to MSA and the Wills for Heroes program for offering this service to Local 1 and making it easy for our members to have a valid and legal will," said John Gardell, Recording Secretary for Pittsburgh Firefighters Local 1. "We sincerely thank all of the attorneys who are volunteering their time, and we are encouraging all of our members to take advantage of this great program."
