

MSA to Ring NYSE Closing Bell in Honor of 15th Anniversary of 9/11

Sep 06,2016

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 6, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- To honor the 15th anniversary of September 11, 2001 and the thousands of lives lost on that day, representatives from global safety equipment manufacturer MSA Safety Inc. (NYSE: MSA) will ring the Closing Bell at the New York Stock Exchange on Wednesday, September 7, 2016.

In 2001, immediately following the terrorist attacks on 9/11, MSA associates in Pittsburgh worked around the clock to provide equipment and assistance to New York City firefighters and first responders tasked with rescue and recovery efforts at the World Trade Center disaster site. Within 24 hours of the attack, MSA delivered more than $3 million worth of safety products, including respirators, breathing apparatus, thermal imaging cameras, and head protection products to Ground Zero in Lower Manhattan.

Among those representing MSA will be William M. Lambert, Chairman, President and CEO; Judy Colfer, an MSA logistics associate who escaped the 55th floor of the World Trade Center's North Tower on that tragic morning; and Dave McArthur and Tom Jeramaz, two MSA associates who led MSA's onsite support mission at Ground Zero on that day and for several months afterwards.

To honor the thousands of lives lost on 9/11, MSA will be joined on the NYSE bell podium by representatives from the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation (NFFF). In addition, Mr. Lee Ielpi, Board President of the September 11th Families' Association, will also be present. Mr. Ielpi, who's son Jonathan was one of the hundreds of first responders lost on 9/11 in New York City, is also co-founder of the 9/11 Tribute Center.
